Who would you talk to if you are sad, worried or cross?

100% pupils identified adults in school that they would talk to if they were sad, worried or cross

Do you feel safe at school?

Yes	Sometimes	No
129	21	0
	18 of you who said 'sometimes' said the new fence near the gym could be seen through and made you uncomfortable. Mr Rowley will screen that this week. 2 of you felt football at lunchtime made you anxious and 1 didn't like it if she had fallen out with friends.

Do you feel happy at school?

	Those of you who said sometimes said you might be sad if you stop dating someone, you feel ill, it is raining. But you recognised it is ok to not be ok and that there are people who help you in school.	Three people put no but then spoke with adults and decided they were not happy when they ticked it (one was cross, one was tired and one was having a joke). These three changed their responses.

You gave me some helpful feedback. You said I ask the wrong question. You said things like 'no one is happy all the time, it is ok to not be ok'. You said I should ask 'Are you happy most of the time or hardly ever'

I will change the questionnaire next time. This shows you have a good understanding of well-being.
